ANOTHER TOP THREE FINISH FOR JENKINS

PORTLAND, Oregon (August 4th, 2007) – Scottie Jenkins just doesn't know how to ease off the throttle. Despite earning the fastest qualifying time yet again, Jenkins found himself starting forth after the random inversion reversed the starting order of the four fastest qualifiers.

The race began without incident and Jenkins quickly advanced one position to hold third for much of the race. Then, just a few laps before the checkered flag, Jenkins was "roughed up" by another car and bumped back to forth. "We try to get in some clean racing every weekend, but not everybody thinks the same. But we persevered and got back by the guy, passing on the outside no less!" Jenkins sparred with his opponent for several laps and made the decisive pass with only a single lap to go. Closing in on second place but out of time, Jenkins finished third and brought home enough points to move up to eleventh place in the overall points standings. "We got back into the top three, we just need some more good solid finishes. A win would be incredible," said Jenkins.

Later interviewed by race videographers, Jenkins has this to say: "This is the first year of stock cars for me, and I couldn't be on a better team here at Irwindale Speedway. Coming 'round here in a stock car in the late model group is...man, it's some class! Some nights we're thirty-five (cars). That's the way it is, you gotta rub fenders, you gotta race, and who's there at the finish – wins." When asked about his team, Jenkins couldn't have been more pleased. "I've got a great group of guys that work with me, guys I trust very much. They put a car underneath me and I just throttle down; so I say let's rock and roll!"
